Author Travis E. Short Monthly Newsletter

This is the first of my monthly newsletters informing my readers and supporters of books I am now working on and plans for promoting my books.

While writing on any current project, I am also thinking of what I might write about next. I suppose that keeps alive the hope that I won't run out of ideas on which to base a story. Most writers assign their effort a working title, which often does not end up as the final title of their book. So, I am going out on a limb when I tell you that my current project is titled: "Death Comes O'er These Mountains – A Saga of the Killing Rock Murders". I plan to complete this historical novel in four to six months. I have already settled on my next book and will call it "The Lies and Loves of Lilly Lawson" at least until my publisher convinces me of a better title.

As some of my readers may know, I publish political opinion on my website, patriotbugler.com. The articles posted there on the section called Short and Not so Sweet usually are result of current news or political events that strike me wrong, and I think, most of the time, require venomous or acrid response. I don't hold back on stating my opinion. I think you will enjoy these articles, which are published from time to time on no schedule. The website, Patriot Bugler, Home page is filled with patriotic images, Poetry, and quotations.

I am proud of the new poster that was designed by Frank Eastland, CEO of Publish Authority, Atlanta Georgia, my publisher. The poster will be used for online advertising and for public events I have scheduled or will schedule in the future. The poster is shown below.

The following events are scheduled soon. I will make announcements of other events as they are made firm.

Sincerely,

Travis Short
